I would also like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Amit Choudhury (Dean, Department of Business Administration) and Dr. Sankar Thappa(H.O.D), Department of Business Administration) for their guidance throughout the preparation of the thesis.

It is true that for any research work, data collection is utmost important because without proper and quality data gathered through data collection, the result of the research will not be authentic and implementation of the suggestions given in the research will not be very helpful enough. In my research also I got tremendous support from the employees working in the workshops. So my heart full thanks to all the employees and the management also for helping me throughout the data fill up and collection process. Because without their help and timely support, the research could not even be proceeded.

I am very much thankful to my father Dr. Ananta kr. Neog for his constant support, motivation and commitment towards completion of this thesis work. This dissertation is dedicated to my mother Dr (Mrs) Bijoya Baruah Neog who encouraged me to pursue my dreams and finish my dissertation. I would also like to express my sincere thanks to my husband Mr. Mrinmoy Gogoi for his continuous help, support, motivation and back-up for me in course of my whole research work.
