

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, I would like to express my extreme gratefulness to my Supervisor Prof. A.C Talukdar, Department of Political Science, USTM for his painstaking guidance, without whose supervision and suggestions, this work would not have been completed. I am also indebted to all the faculty members of the Department of Political Science for all helps and support during the period of my study. I would like to thank the officials of the Research Section, USTM for providing timely administrative support and extending all sorts of help whenever required.

I am grateful to the external experts- Prof. Niru Hazarika and Dr. Jayanta Krishna Sharma, Gauhati University for their comments and valuable suggestion during my presentation. I thank Prof. L.S.Gassah of the Department of Political Science, NEHU for taking the trouble of correcting my draft thesis. I am grateful particularly to Mr. Andrew K. Sangma, Under Secretary, Law Department, Government of Meghalaya, Shillong, for helping me to get the relevant information connected to the subject of my research. My sincere thanks go to the other officers of the Government of Meghalaya, Shillong who had helped me in conducting interview and in getting the relevant data for this work. My thanks are due to the officers and the staff of the Garo Hills Autonomous District Council (GHADC), Tura for providing me the necessary information and the relevant data as well. I thank the Garo Nokmas, the Sorders, the leaders of the Garo NGOs, the elderly Garo men and women from Meghalaya and those of the elected representatives, the Panchayat Secretaries and the Ex-members of the Gram or Village Panchayats of the Goalpara District, Assam, for spending their valuable time while conducting interviews and field studies in connection with my research on this particular topic.

I am extremely pleased to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to Smt. A.G. Momin, Principal, Mendipathar College for extending all sorts of help and support during my study. I am very deeply grateful to Dr. Tharsush Koksi Sangma for guiding me and correcting my entire thesis without whose help the work would not have been successful. I would like to express my sincere thanks to all my colleague in the Department and all the Faculty Members of Mendipathar College for extending all kinds of help and moral support for me.

I acknowledge the inspiration and uncountable blessings that I received from my late beloved parents Bijoy M Marak and Bailo M Sangma and my brothers and sisters for their encouragement and extending endless support during the entire period of my study. Lastly, I am grateful to my wife Smt. Christina R Marak and my only son Gracious Gasper Marak for being the source of inspirations and support throughout my study.
